Conclusion

Your Board and management continue to focus on a range of ramifications across our operations. That said, the immediate challenge is to get through the COVID-19 pandemic in the best possible way we can – for members, staff and our Club. This may involve further difficult decisions, however all can be assured that we will approach them in the most practical and prudent way we can – with our people, our community, principles and the sustainability of our Club fundamental in our decision process.

We stress that in attending the course, staff, members, or other persons are agreeing to comply with the conditions and restrictions and protocols which we have implemented for the wellbeing of members and our community.

Any failure to cooperate with our protocols may result in NSW Health penalties for both the Member and the Club and potential disciplinary action by the Club against the Member. We look forward to continued cooperation in working together to keep both Covid19 in our region under control and to ensure members may continue to enjoy the benefits of membership.

Kind regards

Daniel Constable
